Questions & Answers

We believe that offering high quality care and education to children is incredibly important. It takes high quality teachers and high quality programming to offer high quality care and education, which comes at a cost. What if child care and early education could be treated like other employee benefits (health care, PTO, retirement, etc)? Would you retain your employment with them longer? Would you feel more valued and cared for? At Cultivate Mankato, we believe that offering child care benefits to employees is a change that needs to happen!
